

My name is Muhammad Bellofouh and since I was 16 years old I never liked going to school, because of the fact that the staff and teachers with mistreat student's and could care less if you succeeded or not. It wasn't just one school, it was the whole district that is corrupted because of racism and prejudice. They would tell you all types of negative things, but then they wonder why millions are dropping out. I was pushed out of my first school because the feud I had with one of my instructors. The only place I felt that I belonged was at John Muir and as proof of that I actually graduated and moved on with my life.

My name is Muhammad Bellofoul and since I was 16 years old I never liked going to school, because of the fact that the staff and teachers with mistreat student's and could care less if you succeeded or not. It wasn't just one school, it was the whole district, that is corrupted because of racism and prejudice. They would tell you all types of negative things, but then they wonder why millions are dropping out. I was pushed out of my first school because the feud I had with one of my instructors. The only place I felt that I belonged was at John Muir and as proof of that I actually graduated and moved on with my life.